IF YOU HAVE COTTON GET READY FOR THE GIN

Demonstration To Be Made In Phoenix This Week By Los Angeles Company.

Bring along your cotton. The Universal Fibre Gin of the Imperial valley with business headquarters in Los Angeles advises the board of trade that some time this week one of its gins will arrive in Phoenix for a demonstration.

Professor Peterson, a government expert at the Yuma experimental station has agreed to supply the cotton necessary for the experiment, and any grower in the valley may be sent to the gin where it will be treated.

Only a few bales of cotton have been raised in this section this year, but there has recently been quite a decided increase of acreage planted and if the venture proves successful it is likely that in another year a large amount of cotton will be raised hereabouts.

There is no longer question about the raising of the finest cotton, but there is still a question as to the field work, it being contended by some that the labor in this part of the country is not cheap enough to warrant cotton production at a large margin of profit.

There is considerable interest manifested in the coming of the gin and its operation will be carefully watched.

AT THE EMPRESS.

World's Fair Stock Company To Revive "Arizona."

When Augustus Thomas first wrote "Arizona" the cry was for the play of the century and the critics and powers that be theoretically immediately pronounced it such. It has been the stepping stone to fame for such well known actors as Dustin Farnum, Theodore Roberts, Vincent Cerrano, Edna Barrymore, Robert Edison and Menie Johnson. There is not a part in it that could not positively be called a star part, and like all of Thomas' work it is a play of atmosphere, bringing its hearers in close touch with nature and humanity. Being played again in the state that mothered it, it should be of unusual interest to Phoenix theater-goers who are as familiar with the broad brave nature of the Arizonian as the author himself. It brings on a life in its reality and links them with the cow puncher, and the major domo and like all of Thomas' plays takes a fast fading phase of life that in America should be immortalized.

It tells the story of army life at Fort Geronimo and the oft told tale of a woman in the sage brush craving for the butterfly life of society, with a husband years older than herself, marrying for social position and compelled to live among jack-rabbits and cactus. On the prettily pictured paintings of real life from the soft tongue of the unscrupled man who is always willing to tell a married woman a pretty story that in their romantic way will eclipse the manhood of the man whose name they bear. The wife is saved from dishonor by the sterling manhood of a young lieutenant who resigns his commission in the army, stands for the brand of thief to save his commander's good name.

The old army colonel will be handled by Mr. MacLean, who had his first military experience in Cuba. The tempted wife will be played by Miss Carey and the beautiful character of the young officer will be portrayed by Mr. Adair.

Pretty Cleo Madison will play her first ingenue role of this engagement in that of "Bonita" the girl of the plains. Manager Kilfoil will spare no expense in staging "Arizona" and undoubtedly it will be the dramatic treat of the World's Fair Stock season. The play is that only three performances of this beautiful play will be given.

The Arizona Fire Insurance Company, during the past week, has invested over $7,000 in Tempe school bonds, and made mortgage loans on Arizona properties to the extent of $18,000. This makes about $230,000 invested by that company in the last fifteen months.
